Accessible Document Remediation technology-policy, development and implementation

Accessible Document Remediation technology-policy, development and implementation is not as easy as it sounds.

Providing your online or electronic documents in an accessible format and doing it in a timely fashion at a reasonable cost requires careful consideration.

Setting the right policy and delivery path for each required document must be considered. What documents need to be provided going forward and what historic documents need to undergo Remediation in advance or conversely provided on demand? These are the policy questions that must be addressed.

There are many technological solutions depending on the format required and whether to manage the production in house or through a contract service.

The potential volume of requests, the information being provided and how that request will be managed and fulfilled along with the cost are all questions to be answered.

Access Ready Strategic Consulting has great experience in this area and can easily assist you in providing appropriately Remediated Communication materials as required by law in a cost-effective and market-benefiting positive way.

Our past clients have ranged across the business, Government and nonprofit sectors as our client testimonials reveal.

"For nearly 15 years I have had the opportunity to work with Doug Towne in a variety of capacities. I have come to recognize that he is meticulously organized and has an incredible memory. I have tremendous respect for him. He is a master at advocating on behalf of individuals with disabilities. On countless occasions I have witnessed Doug take on an issue and in no time at all has been successful in resolving the matter at hand. His avid interest in the political arena has served him well. Doug has a vast network that reaches across the country. If presented with a problem to address, he knows who to contact for resolution."
